THE PROJECT

This project for McLaren saw our teams installing doorsets, skirtings as part of a high-end office fit-out for the former fashion retailer Austin Reed, which was planned as one of their stores, with the office accommodation above.

THE PROCESS

We installed high-specification gloss black doors, which must be carefully handled in order not to show any marks – similarly, all the fixings had to be secret. The site, just off Piccadilly Circus, also threw up delivery challenges.
