Market Sector:
Residential

The Client:
St George

Services supplied:
Carpentry & joinery

THE PROJECT

Our work on this high-specification residential project for St George involved all the joinery – from back-painted glass to letterbox set outs to doorsets to vanity units to dividing sliding doors – and working with high-end materials throughout, particularly in the penthouses. The project spanned 72 weeks, and four months of this concerned the penthouses. Our high standards meant we were subsequently awarded a three-month office relocation fitout project.

THE PROCESS

Design considerations were key to the success of the residential project – the flooring in the penthouses saw us installing an oak finish to match the doors, but then at the client's request changing another floor to a dark walnut, which required re-sanding, re-staining and re-grooving. We also had to source new suppliers when existing vendors ceased trading, and employ French polishers on site when the client prematurely removed protection from floors and doors. The office fitout was a complete job, involving drywall partitioning, flooring, staircases, cupboards, rendering and the reception desk.
